$85,000 FOR P.O. BUILDING

APPROPRIATION ANNOUNCED

Message From Congressman Reveals Allocation For New, Modern Structure

"Happy to tell that I have been successful in securing appropriation of eighty-five thousand dollars for post-office buildings in Placerville," said a message from Congressman Harry L. Englebright, at Nevada City, received by this newspaper Friday morning.

Announcement of the appropriation also was made by Congressman Englebright in telegrams to various citizens who have been active in support of the efforts to obtain a new postoffice building for the community.

Although major efforts have been bent in support of a proposed federal building, to house various U. S. offices in addition to the postoffice, it is believed that the allocation provides merely for a postoffice building as distinguished from a federal building.

It is understood that the amount of the allocation includes money for the purchase of a site as well as money for the erection of the building.

Various sites for the new building are reported as under consideration and a Mr. Newman, representing the branch of the postoffice department which has to do with obtaining sites for new buildings, was in Placerville on Thursday.

Mr. Newman was enroute to San Francisco from a vacation at Lake Tahoe and whether he came through Placerville purposely to make an inspection of sites, or whether he merely did so because it was convenient to do so, was not learned.

He spent some time with L. T. Butts, Sr., and looked at various locations.

Mr. Butts reports that he understood from what remarks Mr. Newman made that an area large enough to give a 40-foot clearance on all sides of the new building is desired by the government.

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., and Postmaster General James A. Farley, today announced selection and approval of 319 public building projects to be paid for out of the $70,000,000 emergency construction fund authorized under the third deficiency act approved August 25, 1937.

All authorized funds have been allocated which includes not only the allotments necessary for new projects, but also the amount reserved for 40 projects where construction is contemplated but where selection of character of the project have not yet determined, reservations for 24 projects in areas which at present have no post-offices with receipts in excess of the minimum requirement of $10,000 per annum, and the amount required for approved increases in limits of cost for projects authorized under previous programs.

Work on the projects selected under the new program will go forward immediately. Where land is required, the Treasury Department will promptly issue advertisements soliciting offers of property, and proceed with the drawings and specifications for the projects in the order in which properties are selected.

The projects approved include Placerville postoffice.

George Pontious, Coloma merchant, was a Friday visitor.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fleming were in town from Green Valley on Friday.

CIVIL WAR VETERANS PLAN REUNION

Grand Army Of Republic Ratifies Plans After Discussion For 11 Hours

MADISON, Wis. (UP)—It took them eleven hours to decide, but Union veterans of the Civil War agreed today to meet with Confederate veterans at Gettysburg next year, in the interests of peace.

But—and they were emphatic—the "Boys in Blue" won't stand for any displays of the Confederate "stars and bars" at the Pennsylvania reunion. The only flag in sight must be the "flag of this United States of America," they announced.

Conferees at the 71st annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, debated bitterly the conditions under which they would attend, if any, and finally agreed:

"We are willing to attend a reunion of citizens of the United States who at one time were opposed to one another in civil war and who now wish to join in a reunion at Gettysburg in 1938 for the purpose of showing to citizens of the United States our reconciliation to the results of that war."

Roseville Man Fined $25 In License Infraction

The case of the People vs. W. C. Baker of Roseville, was settled Wednesday afternoon in the court of Justice of the Peace T. F. Lewis, but it wasn't accomplished as simply as that.

Baker was cited several weeks ago by Game Warden Al Sears for failure to show an angling license on demand. He couldn't show it, said it was home. Sears said it would be all right if Baker would send his license over for inspection when he got home, but Baker didn't do that. Instead, he pleaded not guilty and a jury was drawn. The hearing was set once and then continued until Wednesday of this week and Wednesday morning Baker telephoned and indicated his intention to plead guilty at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Well, to make a long story short, Baker wasn't there at 2 o'clock and he didn't get there until 4:30 o'clock and then only under the threat of a promise by authorities that if he didn't show up, he would be arrested on a bench warrant.

He pleaded guilty and was fined $25. Sportsmen interested in the case said they believed that if Baker had sent his license to the game warden for inspection as he had said he would, he might have escaped any fine at all.

Oscar Stinger Wounds Self

Marshall Park Caretaker Is Victim In Accident Friday Morning At Coloma

Oscar Ettinger, caretaker at the Marshall Monument State Park at Coloma, was wounded accidentally in his right side Friday morning by a 22 calibre rifle he was carrying.

Stinger was brought to Placerville by Henry Winje and was treated by Dr. W. A. Reckers who, Stinger reports, informed him that he had missed almost certain death by a scant inch.

The caretaker reports he was walking along a ditch line at or near the park and, having passed through some grass shortly before gaining the ditch, stopped to pick the "bronzos" from his pants legs.

He was carrying a .22 rifle with the intention of shooting any stray cats, squirrels or rabbits he happened upon. As he bent over to pick out the "bronzos" the rifle was discharged, passing through his right side just above the belt line.

GOVERNOR'S DAY AT STATE FAIR

Prize Livestock Parade Is Feature; 70,000 Visitors For Admission Day

By JACK WELTER
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO (UP)—The 83rd annual state fair reached a grand climax today with a "million dollar" livestock parade and the two major handicap events of the exposition's eight-day race meeting.

It was Livestock day, Governor's Day and Future Farmers' Day. Governor Frank P. Merriam was on hand for a luncheon in his honor and to watch the $1,600 governor's stake for harness horses and the $1,500 added governor's handicap over a mile and a sixteenth for running horses three years old and up.

He also was guest of honor at a luncheon in the convention tent.

The mammoth display of livestock began at 11 a. m. Fair officials said the horses, sheep, cattle, hogs and goats on exhibition were worth approximately $1,500,000 and that it was the greatest collection of championship animals in the West.

Fair Director Fred H. Bixby headed the procession past the grandstand. Cowboys and cowgirls in brilliant costumes and mounted polo players added color to the review.

Proudest boy in California, perhaps, was Leslie Fearrien of Humboldt County, to whom A. J. Affleck, president of the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce, presented a cup designating him as the best future farmer in the state.

Sixty other future farmers received awards for excellence of their show entries or their own proficiencies in a ceremony before the grandstand.

A holiday crowd estimated at 70,000 celebrated Admission Day, 87th anniversary of California's entrance to the Union, at the fair grounds yesterday.

Grizzly Flat Boy Gets Eighth Transfusion

The condition of Peter Miller, 10, son of Edward Miller of Grizzly Flat, was described by Dr. C. V. Sorocco as "very bad" Friday as the doctor prepared to give the lad his eighth blood transfusion since he was admitted to the hospital five weeks ago.

Peter was brought to the hospital with a ruptured appendix and his condition was extremely acute from the very beginning.

RUSSIA PREPARED TO HALT "PIRACY"

Will Join In Group Action And Act Separately If Efforts Fail, Litvinov

By STEWART BROWN
United Press Staff Correspondent

NYON, Switzerland (UP)—Soviet Russia proclaimed today that it will take direct action to protect its shipping in the Mediterranean from submarine "pirate" attacks.

Maxim Litvinov, Soviet commissar of foreign affairs, addressing a conference of ten European powers gathered in a portentous conference aimed at settling the Mediterranean crisis without provoking a general war, said Russia is ready to join in collective action. However, he declared, if collective action is not achieved, Russia can act alone.

The Soviet government cannot allow anyone to destroy its state property. It must and will take its own measures.

The conference, boycotted by Italy and Germany, opened in an atmosphere of tension and an obvious anxiety not to close the door to participation of the two Fascist powers in Mediterranean co-operation.

Paralysis Peak Reached—Claim

U. S. Health Service Charts Course Of Epidemic; Cases Increase During June

WASHINGTON (UP)—The U. S. Public Health Service believed today it had discovered the pattern followed by infantile paralysis during the course of an epidemic.

Dr. Robert Oleson, assistant surgeon general, said that infantile paralysis follows a rather stereotyped incidence curve, prevailing with a rather low and uniform rate during the first five months of the year, the number of cases ordinarily increases in June.

"From June on there is a steady, though gradual, rise in the number of cases reported until August, then there is a plateau which descends reluctantly late in October," he said.

The present outbreak apparently is following the pattern. The number of cases reported during the week ending September 4, showed no increase over the previous week, indicating that the plateau phase apparently had been reached.

CHOLERA HITS JAP TROOPS

20 Dead, 80 More Seriously Ill; Chinese Victories On Three Fronts Reported

By H. R. EKINS
United Press Staff Correspondent

SHANGHAI. (Copyright, 1937, By United Press)—An epidemic of cholera and important Chinese victories on three fronts gave Japan a major setback today in her undeclared war with China.

Cholera broke out among Japanese troops in the Shanghai area, a Japanese spokesman said, leaving 20 dead and 80 more in a dangerous condition.

The epidemic centered in Paoshan, near the mouth of the Yangtze River, north of Woosung, and it was feared that it might spread. In such event thousands of civilians and Chinese troops would be in danger of being afflicted with the highly contagious disease.

More than 5,000 Americans, including U. S. marines and bluejackets, were in the gravest danger tonight as they have been every hour since the Shanghai battle started, August 12.

Shells and bombs again fell near the U. S. flagship Augusta, on which a sailor already has been killed and 17 wounded, and anti-aircraft explosives again boomed ominously near more than 1,000 marines holding the international defense line on the south bank of Shochow creek in the international settlement.

Added to the Japanese reverses brought on by cholera were the Chinese claims of having blocked the Japanese on three fronts and a Japanese admission that they were unable to split Chinese defenses in the mid-section of the vital Woosung military highway between Shanghai and the Yangtze River.

CHINESE UNITE

NANKING (UP)—An official communique announced today that China's communist army of 100,000 or more men had made peace with the central government and had been transformed into the eighth route army to join the fight against the Japanese.

The announcement said Chu Teh, the revered communist leader, had been made commander in chief of the eighth army on August 22.

PLAN LONG CAMPAIGN

TOKYO (UP)—Japan's undeclared war against China will continue into 1938 and the empire's next budget must be considered on the basis of the "worst eventuality," Prince Fumimaro Konoye, Japanese premier, said tonight.

He told newspapermen that Japan is "engrossed in the successful conduct of operations against China" and that therefore various domestic reforms will be effected where necessary.

Friends have received word of the recent birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hamburger, formerly of Plymouth and now of Los Angeles. The baby, named Katherine Suzanne, has a big brother, David, aged 4 years.

Pupils of County Schools Excel In Display of Work at State Fair

Throngs In Educational Building Delighted With Three Daily Concerts On Monday And Tuesday By Placerville Grammar School Orchestra, Directed By Miss Laura Ball

Carrying away thirteen major awards, seven of which were blue ribbons for first prizes, the children of the El Dorado County schools have made an enviable record in the display of their work at the annual state fair at Sacramento.

Although it is impossible at this writing for us to give a detailed list of the winners of the seven first prizes and the six second prizes won by various entries, your reporter visited the El Dorado County exhibit in the Educational Building at the fair on Tuesday and found it a larger and more varied display than has been entered in recent years.

Not the least of El Dorado County's contribution to the state fair was the appearance of the Placerville grammar school orchestra, directed by Miss Laura Ball, at three concerts daily in the educational building on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

The many favorable comments heard concerning the display of art work, sewing and woodwork by county pupils, were echoed again in the applause given the orchestra by the state fair visitors who gathered to hear them play.

The exhibit by the schools, which was arranged under the direction of Mrs. Kathleen Dwyer, rural supervisor, was El Dorado County's only participation in the state fair for this year. The usual display of the county's agricultural, mining, lumbering and other products was omitted this year and El Dorado County was one of twenty-six counties in the state which did not participate in the fair officially this year.

But our representation was well taken care of by the school children. Of course, when we inspected the booth, we took care not to touch any article and since the name cards on some of the articles were partially cov-

THE MEXICAN ERA

The Spanish era in California ended, politically, toward the end of 1822 when Mexico, under General Iturbide, threw off the yoke of Spain and set up a separate Mexican empire with himself on the throne as Emperor Augustin I.

The Mexican era, under a succession of governors, lasted until 1846, and ended with the entrance by the United States into California's history in that year. Chiefly overlaid, the infiltration of Americans had set in during the period, with American influences and pioneers gradually forging to leadership.

Of the famed American trail blazers of this period was Captain Jedediah Smith, discoverer of the South Pass through the Rocky Mountains that made the historic "covered wagon" caravans possible. Smith, who survived almost incredible hardships, and death on several occasions, once in a hand to hand battle with a grizzly, which he killed with a knife, being fearfully mauled in the encounter—was the first man to bring an overland party to California, by the southern or Colorado River route.

He was the first American of record to cross the Sierras and the first American to travel the length of California overland, from San Diego to Fort Vancouver on the Columbia River.

This intrepid scout—and the original pathfinder, because he was twenty years before Fremont—ultimately met the death he had so often defied when he was ambushed by a band of Comanche Indians on the Cimarron. He was then thirty-two years of age, having been a scout and trapper from his early youth.

His watch, Bible—which he always carried with him—and other personal possessions were later recovered from the Indians.

The only geographical memorial in California to his great work, which has been altogether too little recognized by historians, is the Smith River, which he discovered, in Del Norte County.

During this period—in 1841—the Russians, who had established a trading and hunting post at Fort Ross, near Bodega Bay, about 75 miles north of San Francisco, abandoned it. Fort Ross was established in 1812. At one time the Russians maintained a sealing post, manned by Aleutians, on the Farallone Islands, some twenty miles off the Golden Gate.

In the international picture, with Spain's North American power ended, England and France both were casting covetous eyes on California; a circumstance that quite apparently hastened the series of events destined to bring California under the American flag.

BEAR FLAG REPUBLIC

The opening of the year 1846 found California with a white population of about 10,000, including a considerable proportion of Americans engaged in agricultural pursuits, lumbering, and various kinds of trading. The Mexican hold in California was weak, centered at Monterey and in the north, at Sonoma, where General Vallejo maintained a semblance of military rule. Conditions were highly unsatisfactory for the settlers, with practically no co-operation either from the Mexican authorities or from the United States, through such occasional warships as visited at California harbors.

The climax to the settler's discontent came just before dawn, June 14, 1846, when General Vallejo and his staff were placed under arrest by a group of twenty-four Americans, in charge of Captain Ezekiel Merritt.

The Bear Flag of the California Republic then replaced the Mexican ensign on the flagpole before General Vallejo's headquarters.

The party included Dr. Semple and William G. Ide, the latter becoming the leader of the Bear Flag regime.

Without authority to hoist the American flag, the settlers had decided on the design of a flag of their own, with a crudely painted grizzly bear and one star. The flag was hand-painted "with linseed oil and Venetian red" by one of the company, William L. Todd, a relative of Mary Todd Lincoln, wife of the Great Emancipator.

An interesting detail of a narrative of the day concerning the making of the flag, relates that when some red material was needed for embellishment, it was supplied by Mrs. Captain John Sears and said to have been "part of a petticoat" worn by her while crossing the Sierras.

A constitution was adopted by the settlers at Sonoma, declaring California a distinct, separate and sovereign nation.

Captain John C. Fremont, of the topographical engineers, who was in California on a "pathfinder" expedition for the government, became commander of the Bear Flag forces, organizing a battalion of mounted riflemen and promptly suppressing such

2 MORE LIONS KILLED

State Hunters Take Pair On Wednesday Morning 12 Miles East Of Georgetown

By E. A. GREEN

Wednesday morning Jay Bruce and assistant, Larry Wilmer, California official and efficient lion hunters, stalked and killed two more mountain lions.

The lions were found and shot from the trees up which the hounds had chased them about twelve miles easterly from Georgetown near Tunnel Hill. They were loaded into the light truck which is also used to transport the hounds from one section to another and were taken to the Tiedeman mine, six miles east of Georgetown, to be skinned.

The pelts will go to San Francisco.

The animals were hunted up at the Tiedeman mine and photographed before being skinned and Mr. Wilmer estimated the weight of each at between 90 and 100 pounds.

It is generally agreed that a mountain lion will kill an average of two deer per week, the hunters said. The number of dogs used in the hunt varies owing to disability caused by the animals stalked, or by sickness of the dog, but at the present time the pack consists of eight hounds.

Chamber Of Commerce Presents Cash Prizes To Winners; More Than 90 Views Entered

El Dorado County Chamber of Commerce has an excellent beginning for a collection of photographs of all parts of the county following the conclusion of their amateur photographers' contest.

Entries closed in the contest on August 31 and the judges appointed by the chamber of commerce to award the cash prizes offered announced their decision on Wednesday.

First award was won by Dr. J. B. Schafhirt, of Whitehall, with a view of Trout Creek, in Lake Valley, near Meyers Station.

Second award went to Mrs. Lillian Larsen of Placerville, who entered an unusual view of Wright's Lake.

The judges were Mrs. J. H. Van Artsdalen, of Georgetown; Percy I. McNie, of Camino; and Reuel Whigam and Carol Land, of Placerville, all chosen for their experience in photography and their knowledge of the subject.

Dr. Schafhirt wins the cash prize of $5 and Mrs. Larsen wins the second award of $3. Cash prizes of $1 each were awarded to the following:

Alfred Hilton, of Murphys, best picture of summer resort; also best general landscape showing pear orchard in blossom near Diamond Springs;

Mrs. Nellie M. Rymal, Placerville, best historical subject, the old assay office of the Oro Fino mine at Shingle Springs;

Dr. Schafhirt, Whitehall, best river view, a picture of the American River at Whitehall;

Eugene Sullivan, Smith Flat, most unusual picture, sunrise over a lake;

O. O. Winn, Placerville, best industrial picture, view of log pond and mills of Stockton Box Company and California Door Company;

Dr. Schafhirt, best view of outdoor activity, taken at Rubicon Point;

Alfred Hilton, Murphys, best summer homes picture, a view of the Kit Carson cabin at Scot camp.

Honorable mention was given pictures entered by Dorothy Morris, of Pacific, who offered views of Suzy Lake and Aloha Lake; E. W. Zueger, a picture of the mess hall at the Lake Audrain Scout camp; Alfred Hilton, pictures of Lake Tahoe, American River bridge at Coloma, and the county courthouse; and Mrs. F. L. Hosier, of Placerville, who entered a picture of the logging industry.

According to Wallace M. Ripley, secretary of the chamber of commerce, more than ninety pictures were entered in the contest and the judges had a difficult time in deciding upon the awards. They had high praise for all entries, both for the nature of the subject presented and for the quality of photographic excellence.

The pictures are on display in the windows of the Land Studio.

SUPERVISORS ADOPT FIRM POLICY ON CHARITY TO TRANSIENTS

The county Board of Supervisors at their meeting this week adopted a resolution similar to one which is being adopted by boards of supervisors in other counties of the state, declaring they will not accept any responsibility for charity or hospitalization to any except bona fide county residents.

This is a step which will, we believe, meet with the hearty endorsement of taxpayers of the county and one which, if generally followed by other counties of the state, will result in a material reduction in general relief costs.

It is a fact that California counties have been called upon to extend charity to hundreds of residents of other states who have come to this state without means or without prospect of employment to become a yoke upon the necks of California taxpayers. A general endorsement of the resolution adopted by our supervisors by the supervisors of other counties will help in the solution of this problem.

County Scouters Attend Sacramento Meeting

Dr. Lester B. Rantz, chairman, and other Scouters of El Dorado County district, were at Sacramento Wednesday evening attending a farewell dinner for C. J. Carlson, regional executive, who is being transferred to Chicago, and the regular September meeting of the Sacramento district.

The El Dorado delegation included George Burrows, Hugh Shafer, Roy McPhee, Clarence Allen, Charles Doe, William Henderson, James Henderson and District Commissioner E. W. Zueger.

MEANDERING THROUGH LAKE VALLEY on its way to Lake Tahoe, passing by cattle grazing in a mountain meadow in the middle distance, goes Trout Creek. This county scenic view won first award for Dr. J. B. Schafhirt of Whitehall, in the chamber of commerce sponsored amateur photographers' contest. The picture was taken near Meyers Station, Lake Valley.

Hogs To Be Taught Good Manners Shockingly

COLUMBUS, O. (UP)—Robert I. Simmons has devised a gadget to make "gentlemen of hogs" by preventing them from knocking the milk slop from his hands when he tries to feed them. By using a metal trough and a rheostat, he treats unruly pigs to a slight electrical shock, if they approach the food too soon. If one does happen to touch the trough, a light goes on, giving the animal additional warning to wait until dinner is "formally" announced.

Mrs. Jessie Maynard was a visitor Thursday at the state fair.

FRUIT GROWERS, FARMERS TO CONVENE DEC. 6 AT SAN JOSE

SAN JOSE—With many national and state agricultural leaders scheduled to participate and many important problems to be discussed, the 80th convention of California Fruit Growers and Farmers will be held in San Jose December 6, 7 and 8, it was announced here by officials of the State Department of Agriculture, the state agency sponsoring the big farm gathering.

Oldest in points of years of any California agricultural group, the conventions of fruit growers and farmers usually attract hundreds of growers and others interested in the many problems and progress of rural life.

One of the chief purposes of the conventions, all of which are open to the public, is to provide a final free farm forum of the year at which the various agricultural associations and groups may express themselves as to policies and steps needed for the betterment of California agriculture.

That the San Jose convention will be a magnet for farm leaders this year is indicated by the keen interest which has all ready been evinced in the conclave.

In connection with the farmers and fruit growers convention, several other farm groups will meet in San Jose, it was announced. Dates of these meet-

Realizing the importance of the convention, the San Jose chamber of commerce, through its secretary, Russell E. State Department of Agriculture officials who have surveyed the San Jose convention facilities pronounce them to be excellent for the meetings, a fact which is expected to add greatly to the large attendance of farmers and farm life leaders.

Bath Houses in Tokyo To Increase Fees

TOKYO (UP)—The public bath houses of Tokyo will shortly be charging one sen—about a third of a cent—more for their services to millions of citizens in the Japanese capital.

The bathtub and modern plumbing in general haven't found their way into many walks of Japanese life. There are plenty of people who go once, and in summer perhaps several times a day to the public baths, where they sit in tubs of scalding hot water. In summer, particularly, the Japanese regard a hot bath as definitely cooling.

Recently the authorities decided to raise the price of a bath from 5 to 6 sen. But the water is still just as hot.

NEW HIGHWAY ROUTE TOLD

Bids Opened On Wednesday For Realignment Of El Dorado Sector; Marysville Firm Low

The state's plans for ultimate improvement of U. S. Route 50 between Placerville and Sacramento County, as far as routing is concerned, are shown in a map made available for publication this week and printed on this page.

The map was obtained for this newspaper from the state highway department through the courtesy of State Senator A. L. Pierovich, of Jackson.

The realignment of the road is clearly shown, along with other physical factors such as existing state and county roads, reservoirs and streams and the railroad right of way, so that the definite location of the proposed highway changes can be established with reasonable certainty by the layman.

Meanwhile bids were opened at Sacramento before the state highway board on Wednesday for the improvement of a stretch of highway 4.3 miles long, extending westerly from Clark's Corners to a point approximately one and one-half miles west of El Dorado.

It was found that of the several bids offered, the low bid was submitted by the firm of Hemstreet & Bell, of Marysville, who offered to do the job for $163,731.25.

Appropriation for the work was $250,000.

It is understood that it is the custom of the highway commission to consider such matters for a period of approximately two weeks before letting the contract. Upon letting of the contract, the work is expected to commence within about two weeks from that date.

This means that possibly by the early part of October, dirt will begin to fly on the new routing through Webber Creek. The new road will be 28 feet wide.

In addition to the above improvement, the map indicates that the state contemplates following the existing route, approximately, from a point a mile and a half west of El Dorado to Clarksville, with some realignment consisting chiefly of the elimination of curves and a new routing just east of Deer Creek.

From Clarksville, it is apparent that the new road will follow the route of a road used in earlier days, missing White Rock entirely and cutting across to connect with the existing road about two miles out of Folsom where an irrigation ditch passes under the highway.

Although the etching on the map indicates that this is the "route of proposed state highway," roads boosters declare the route has been definitely adopted.

Legion Post Sponsors Dance On Saturday

Dance fans going to Motor City Saturday night should find special enjoyment in the program that has been planned for them. The dance is sponsored by El Dorado Post No. 119 American Legion in co-operation with the Motor City management.

Red's Rhythm Rascals have rehearsed a number of the very latest dance numbers and in addition have added another member, a guitar player to their orchestra, thus promising an exceptionally fine dance program.

Cool evenings make dancing a very enjoyable recreation it was pointed out by the committee in charge, which is headed by A. C. (Gus) Winkelman, and it is anticipated that a large crowd will be in attendance.

Johnson Written Up" In Power Firm's Publication

The current issue of P. G. & E. Progress carries the following article about J. R. Johnson:

January 1 will bring to Auburn a new manager of P. G. & E.'s Drumm Division, which embraces Placer, Nevada and Sierra counties and part of El Dorado. Herbert M. Cooper, present manager, will retire on a pension on December 31, after thirty-two years of service, and will be succeeded by John R. Johnson, now district superintendent at Placerville.

John has several qualities that fit him for the post—long and varied experience in the utility industry, willingness and ability to take an energetic part in all movements for community welfare, a personality that wins friends.

Born in San Jose in 1886, John went through school there and then took a course in electrical engineering at Stanford University. Following his graduation in 1911 he spent two years in the testing department of the General Electric Company at Schenectady, New York, and in 1912 returned to California. During the next ten years he "followed a number of lines" in the Santa Clara and San Joaquin Valleys, including operating ranches and orchards, building bridges, general contracting, surveying, irrigation work.

In November, 1923, John joined the Western States Gas and Electric Company and helped to construct its El Dorado power plant near Placerville. Then he became superintendent of hydro-electric production and when the P. G. and E. took over the company in 1927 he was appointed district superintendent at Placerville.

John is a school trustee, member of the highway committee of the State Chamber of Commerce, past president of the El Dorado County Chamber of Commerce and member of its highway committee, past president of the Placerville Lions Club. He is a Mason and Shriner, has "gone through the chairs" in the Knights Templar, Royal Arch Masons and Order of the Eastern Star.

Despite all the calls on his time John is a great "home man." In 1912 he married Luisa Florence Grant of San Jose and they have two sons and a daughter—Grant, a graduate of the Stanford School of Business Administration and now with the Standard Oil Company; Barbara, a sophomore in college. And he says that "the family has participated in about everything I've done and egged the old man on when, under other circumstances, I might not have clicked."

FARMER ACQUITTED IN DEER SLAYING CASE AT DIAMOND

The question of a farmer's right without a permit to kill deer damaging his crops still lacks a legal settlement, but a jury in the court of Justice of the Peace J. W. Landis, at Diamond Springs, on Wednesday found Fred Cox not guilty.

Cox, Pleasant Valley farmer, had a permit to kill deer under such circumstances, but the permit had expired when he allegedly killed a deer on July 20. Game Warden Al Sears cited him for taking deer out of season.

R. L. Miller, attorney for Cox and also attorney for the California Farm Bureau Federation, is reported to have expressed the hope that Cox might be found guilty so that a test case could be made of the issue. Cox, himself, is reported to have admitted under examination that he killed the deer, which was damaging his vegetable plot.

But the opportunity for a test of the issue was lost when the jurors brought in a decision acquitting Cox of the charge. Robert E. Roberts, assistant district attorney, prosecuted.

DEER PLENTIFUL, REPORTS GAME WARDEN FROM SUMMIT AREA

With the deer hunting season opening Thursday of next week, El Dorado County hunters can anticipate good hunting, according to Game Warden Ed Hughes, who was in town this week from his station in the Echo summit area.

"Lots of bucks," he reports, and adds that "they are all apparently in good shape, too."

Sporting goods dealers report that hunters are showing an unusual interest in the sport this year and that the probabilities are that the increase in deer will be almost matched by an increase in hunters on the opening of the season.

In addition to the regulations governing the sport in other years, hunters

Eastern Star Chapter Ends Vacation

Members of Fallen Leaf Chapter No. 90, Order of Eastern Star, will open their series of fall and winter meetings on Monday night at the Masonic temple. During the past two months the chapter's meetings have been suspended as is customary in the chapter during the summer vacation season.

this year are having their attention directed to the new ruling, effective August 27, which requires that no deer taken may be transported under any circumstances, except from the site of the kill to the nearest person authorized to countersign the deer tag, before the tag is countersigned.

Game wardens, forest rangers, justices of the peace, state fire wardens, postmasters or any person authorized to administer oaths may countersign the tag.

HIGH SCHOOL TEACHERS HOLD RECEPTION AT PACIFIC

Members of the high school faculty and their wives or husbands or lady or gentlemen friends gathered at Pacific House Wednesday evening for a chicken dinner and reception welcoming the new teachers of the staff.

Following dinner the new members of the faculty were "initiated" by being called upon to answer a series of questions and this was followed by a program of songs and playlets presented by the new faculty members.

At the close of a happy evening the party, numbering approximately thirty, returned to Placerville.
